CHRISTMAS GIFT PRESENTED TO MR. RUDD

Acting as spokesman of the student body on New Year's morning, Miss Sybil Lusk, senior class pres., presented Acting Pres. Judson A. Rudd a Christmas gift of $60.50 given by friends of the students.

In behalf of the university, Prof. Rudd thanked the donors of the gift for their interest and good will as it was evidenced in the Christmas offering.

In appreciation Mr. Rudd said, "Throughout December the members of the Faculty were more or less conscious of some activity on the part of the student body which was prompted by their desire to more fully co-operate in building a larger and finer Bryan University. Many prayers of thanksgiving were offered for this manifestation of the Lord's blessing. The amount of the gift itself does not at all fully measure the value of this spirit on the part of the students.

"I appreciate the fact that although the students were anxious to give impetus to a building fund they decided to attach no limitations to the use of their gift. Happily the Faculty as a whole agrees that this money should be set aside in the building fund, so that the original thought of the Seniors starting the movement has been carried out. May the building ever be so used as to justify the sacrifice of the givers."

GOSPEL TEAM-WORK AMONG DAYTON'S SICK

The George E. Guille Ministerial Association has taken another forward step in the spreading of the Gospel of Christ in Dayton and vicinity.

At the suggestion of Mr. Edger-ton Reid the Association met and made plans to carry the gospel to shut-ins during the winter months.

The plan is that a committee is to be appointed to work in co-operation with the various churches in Dayton, both white and colored in securing lists each week of all those who are not able to attend regular services and who would enjoy a service in the home.

These gospel teams will be sent out to give a service of song, prayer and a short message.

Mr. Reid has been appointed chairman of the committee in charge.

T. P. I. DROPS BASKET BALL FOR GIRLS

A letter from Ferris U. Foster, director of the Athletic Council of T. P. I., advises that girls' basketball has been eliminated from intercollegiate athletics at that institution. This is learned with regret by the Bryan squad who had hoped to play at T. P. I. this season.

Don't fail to buy an annual!

Continuing the custom begun last quarter, Dr. Charles H. Currens, our Bible teacher and best of friends, gave a discussion of the current Sunday School lesson Thursday morning, January 5, at 7:45. With the Lord willing these meetings will be continued all through this quarter at the same hour.

This extra-curricula class has the added feature of furnishing mimeographed lesson outlines to all who wish to have them and is not only open to all Bryan students but most especially to Sunday School teachers and class members of Dayton who want real spiritual food to take to their students on Sunday morning.

Until the group in attendance warrants moving into a larger room the meeting will be held, as before, in the music room of the academic building. For the benefit of those not acquainted with the building's arrangement, the music room is the first room on the left as one enters the ground floor.

REV. GRAVES MOVES TO NEW POST IN ROCKWOOD

It is with sadness that the students and faculty learned of the removal of the Rev. W. H. Graves to his new post as pastor of the Methodist Church in Rockwood. During his pastorate at the local M. E. Church, Rev. Graves has shown himself very co-operative and helpful towards all those connected with Bryan University. He was the only local pastor who was here at the first opening of Bryan University four years ago: his enthusiasm has been an inspiration to those who have the best interests of the school at heart.

Several Bryan students attended the farewell party for Mr. Graves and his family which was given Tuesday night at the Sunday School rooms of the church.

The faculty and students extend a warm greeting and cordial wishes for a successful pastorate to the Rev. E. M. Boyd, formerly of Sweetwater, who has come to fill the vacancy left by Rev. Graves.

UNIVERSITY HOLDS OPEN HOUSE AT CEDAR HILL

The social season of the University for the winter term was opened last Monday, when a large number of visitors were entertained by the faculty and student body in the open house reception held at Cedar Hill. Although some of the guests came from a distance, the majority were our friends of Dayton. Our fine group of visitors seemed to enjoy the occasion to the fullest extent, and jolliness, good fellowship, and cheer were the watchwords of the day.

Upon entering, the visitors registered, after which they were shown through the entire building—even the furnace room—by the "guides." The co-eds who filled positions as guides, as well as that of punch and cake distributors, were the Misses Marjorie Yancey, Helen Limburg, Madge Smith, Ruby Brimer, Agnes Copeland, Thelma Lee and Emily McMurry.

Among those on the program, which was given both afternoon and evening, were Miss Julia Anna Yancey, pianist; Miss Sybil Lusk and Lloyd E. Fish, soloists, and the Dishwashers "Quartet," of which Messrs. Bill Daugherty, John DeRosset, Ellwood Adkins, Terrence Bently, Curtis Caudill, W. T. Margraves and S. D. Hodges, Jr., are members, and the newly organized "Bryan Singers," a quartet composed of Zelpha Russell, soprano; Sybil Lusk, contralto; Lloyd Fish, tenor, and D. W. Ryther, bass.

"SOUND YOUR HORN" CAST INVITED TO JOIN PLAYERS

The Bryan Players have extended invitations to the members of the cast of "Sound Your Horn" to join the organization without the usually required try-outs. The ten members of the cast of "Sound Your Horn" are warned that they must accept before February 1, when the invitation will become void.

Miss Zelpha Russell visited the S. D. Harris family in Berkley Circle, Chattanooga, during the holidays.

GAMMA OMICRON LAMBDA LOOKS AHEAD

As we enter upon the activities of the New Year, a "double check" of our plans and activities for this new time of new opportunities is very much in order.

The first meeting of the Gamma Omicron Lambda Literary Society for 1934 is to be held on January 8th, with Group 2, led by Cleneyria Lee, in charge. The last meeting of the Society before vacation was an enjoyable one; it is not too much to hope that this one will be even better.

In a school like ours, no organization or activity on the campus has any excuse for existence unless it directly or indirectly advances the intellectual, spiritual, or social welfare of the students, or of the University as a whole. It is our belief that the Literary Society fills a niche in university life which is peculiarly distinct from that filled by any other group.

The division of the society into groups for the purpose of planning and giving programs is intended to give to every student a chance to develop talent, to acquire confidence, and to aid in entertaining his fellow members.

The members of the Society welcome any student who is desirous of the pleasure and profit to be had from the Society, and who is willing to put forth his best efforts that the mutual undertaking may be successful.

Worthwhile plans and pleasant social activities are in the offing for the coming quarter; the officers of the Society solicit suggestions for betterment in detail or in aims for Gamma Omicron Lambda. Nineteen thirty four looks good to us. May June find us with a record of pleasant times together, but what is yet more important may it find us with a record of accomplishments in keeping with the ideals of the noble institution of which we are a component part.

FACULTY OF BRYAN ENTERTAINED BY MRS. A. M. MORGAN

A dinner was given for members of the faculty by Mrs. A. M. Morgan at her home on Seventh Avenue on the evening of December 26. As it was in the Christmas season, the yuletide colors were carried through from decorations to desert.

The three small tables on which the dinner of four courses was served later furnished the space for a big Rook tournament.

Those present for the evening were Prof. and Mrs. Judson A. Rudd, Prof. and Mrs. Roy McMurry, Dr. and Mrs. Russell Austin, Prof. D. W. Ryther, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hogue, Miss Gladys Morgan, Mrs. Ed Hogue and Mrs. Morgan. All are of Dayton except Miss Morgan, formerly librarian of Bryan University, but now librarian of the La Follette High School in La Follette.

WHY COLLEGE?

All over the nation young men and young women are spending their time, money and talent in exchange for that coveted thing—a college education. The motive and attitudes which are theirs reflect an interesting cross-section of their thinking. To some it means the right to teach; to some, prestige; to some, social advancement; to some, preparation for professions: law, medicine, ministry.

It is unthinkable that a boy or girl should be in college without a motive; yet the attitude of some deny it. "Let's cut class today;" "I 'got by' alright;" "I'm not going to take that course; it's too much work," are but outward manifestations of the idea that to secure the diploma is the thing and to worry about the education that it declares one to have is folly.

Young people of college age are capable of making the judgments involved in weighing the sacrifice against the gain, the weakening effect of an "easy" choice against the building of will; they should assume responsibility and display self-reliance.

But, there is a bright side to all this. There are literally thousands of young people who are working part or all of their way through college, and in the main, they have undertaken the task because they knew what they wanted and have grasped the opportunity that has been offered to them of satisfying their insatiable thirst for knowledge and the larger opportunity afforded by it.

Men may give of their money to a cause, they may give of their time or talent, but when a man gives his most precious possession, his whole life — there can be no more convincing proof of his earnestness. And when that earnestness is rightly directed when education is linked with right thinking, when those who teach have not merely qualifications but consecration, only God Himself knows the possibilities of lives which, on platform or pulpit in shop or store, seek to honor Him.

A PLACE OF STRONG MEN AND WOMEN

The world is flooded with unemployed, but never in the history of man has there been a greater opportunity for the young man or woman. This, of course, includes only those who have a determination to succeed, who hold fast to worthy ideals, and who perform their part in doing good for humanity.

There is no hope for the idle or undetermined in this age; but there is great hope for the shrewd, tenacious energetic individuals whose brains have been rounded into shape by a thorough and practical education. The lazy and the indifferent are out of step. The person expert in his chosen field and with a good knowledge of all society is becoming more and more a potent factor and necessity.

The question of choosing a vocation is a difficult one, but once the individual has decided, he should hold fast to his ideals. A vacillating nature has undoubtedly caused many failures. One should weigh well the abandonment of a course once begun, no matter what dread sceptres appear in the path. The time for making a career is short and those are the fortunate who steer away from the dim horizon of uncertainty and distraction. In the words of Odel, "The perpetuity of an undertaking means its victory."

Whatever the part that God has chosen for us we should focus our attention and faculties on that work and be sincere in all our efforts.

ABOUT THE CAMPUS

The Echo staff labors on in their attempt to avoid the issue—the next one—and the editor seems to have but one desire—that they live in misery until next June.

The Ministerial students are really proving themselves to be a stabilizing influence on the campus. We hope that they will feel their responsibility and take heed lest they betray the confidence or weaken the faith of some fellow student.

It is encouraging to note the recent increase in interest in chapel.

What has happened to the Glee Club? Why not a special some morning, Miss Yancey?

A good start has been made on the annual fund; however if our goal is to be reached we must put forth more effort than has been shown to date.

We are thoroughly convinced that money spent for an annual ad will not be "so much money donated," but that a real tangible gain in dollars and cents will be realized.

Remember, merchants and business men, this is not just another annual. It is an annual that marks the graduation of the first class of a University.

The above alone should make it an unusually valuable advertising channel. However, there is a still greater reason why you should give your support to the annual: Bryan University is your school in your town. We, the students, will soon be leaving, but the school will always be with you. Its ultimate success depends to a great extent on you.

We are happy to note the efficiency with which our school organizations are operating, dining-room, dormitories, Literary Society, etc. This is due to two things—good leadership and a true spirit of cooperation.

Perhaps some can see a wide gap between the present state and the ideal in efficiency but this can only be reached by the continual and unified effort of all.

We congratulate Miss Marjorie Yancey and her co-worker, Mr. Colvin, on being the ones to really start the ball rolling for our annual. They have been the first to sell ads, having sold $8.50 worth Tuesday afternoon.

THE PRECIOUS BLOOD OF CHRIST

Man's need of salvation has been the same for six milleniums. "There is no difference, for all have sinned, and come short of the glory of God," Rom. 3:22, 23 God's way of meeting this need has been the same from the beginning. In all ages, and in all places, and among all peoples there has been but one hope set before the sinner. If Christ and His sacrifice at Calvary are rejected, then all of the spiritual benefits offered by God to sinful men are of no avail.

Refusing Christ Jesus as Saviour and Lord means incalculable and eternal loss. Before the Cross hope was given through the sacrificial blood of designated substitutes. Not that there was actual cleaning virtue in such sacrificial blood; but in the reckoning of God it typified the blood of "the Lamb slain from the foundation of the world," Rev. 13:8; so that all who presented the prescribed sacrifices were reckoned clean in anticipation of the shed blood of Jesus Christ, which precious blood no human guilt can challenge.

Since the crucifixion and resurrection of God's spotless Lamb millions of sin-sick souls have trusted in His shed blood as their one and only hope of eternal forgiveness and cleansing, with the assurance that they were "clean every whit," John 13:10. A modern but unscriptural theology teaches that sin is misfortune; it is imperfect development. Recovery is therefore to be found in the good fortune of a proper, cultural environment, and a more complete civilization.

If such teaching is true what meaning is there to the words of Jehovah, "And I will put enmity between thee and the woman, and between thy seed and her seed; it shall bruise thy head, and thou shalt bruise his heel." Gen. 3:15.

If development is the answer to man's need, of what significance is the story of the sacrifice of Isaac upon the mountain or of the substitute ram, Gen. 22; or what message has the institution of the Passover, Ex. 12, for a sin conscious world?

Why the elaborate system of sacrifice and worship in connection with the Tabernacle service if there be a bloodless way of approach into the Divine presence?

If culture, or education, or civilization, any or all of them can open the gate of Paradise, which of these shall claim the honor of opening that portal to the dying thief?

What is the testimony of the Scriptures, the only infallible revelation of God's will respecting the necessity of blood shedding as a means of redemption?

It is written, "For the life of the flesh is in the blood, and I have given it to you upon the altar to make an atonement for your souls; for it is the blood that maketh an atonement for the soul." Lev. 17:11.

In Job 1:5 is found the record of the piety of that greatest of all men of the East, 1:3. That man who was "perfect and upright, and one that feared God and eschewed evil," 1:1 "Fearing lest his sons and daughters had left God out of their plans upon their seasons of feasting, Job offered burnt offerings to God, recognizing the necessity for, and the sin-covering value of blood atonement.

Isaiah, the evangelist of the Old Testament, under direct inspiration of the Holy Spirit, presents us with a picture of a bruised and bleeding Redeemer who is the only Saviour. He is prophetically described as "despised and rejected of men," Isa. 53:3. Why despised and rejected? Because man would find salvation apart from His substitutionary sacrifice. "He was wounded for our transgressions, He was bruised for our iniquities, the chastisement of our peace was upon Him, and with His stripes we are healed. He was oppressed and He was afflicted, yet He opened not His mouth; He is brought as a lamb to the slaughter, and as a sheep dumb before her shearers is dumb, so He openeth not His mouth," Isa. 53: 5-7. His soul was made an offering for sin, and it pleased Jehovah to bring this Lamb to the altar of the Cross that He might be able to righteously "justify many," Isa. 53:10. See also Rom. 3:24-26.

Why all this elaboration upon the sacrifice of the Lamb? The inspired answer is found in Heb. 9:22, "without shedding of blood is no remission."

How interesting to learn some of the blessings which flow from the exercise of faith in the crimson blood of this Holy Sacrifice, Jesus Christ, our Lord.

1. He "made peace through the blood of His cross," Col. 1:20.
2. "Being now justified by His blood, we shall be saved from wrath through Him." Rom. 5:9.
3. Remission of sins is alone through the "shedding of blood," Heb. 9:22.
4. It is "the blood of Jesus Christ," God's son, that "cleanseth us from all sin," 1 John 7.
5. He "washed us from our sins in His own blood," Rev. 1:5.
6. "In Christ Jesus ye who sometimes were far off are made nigh by the blood of Christ," Eph. 2:13.
7. He hath purchased the church of God with His own blood, Acts 20:28.
8. Through faith, the blood of Jesus Christ becomes a propitiatory sacrifice, as Dr. Schoolfield says, "So that what else had been a judgment seat could righteously be a mercy seat." See Rom. 3:24-25.
9. The blood alone can redeem, buy back out of the devil's grasp, the souls of men. "Ye know that ye were not redeemed with corruptible things, as silver and gold, from your vain conversation received by tradition from your fathers, but with the precious blood of Christ, as of a lamb without blemish and without spot," 1 Pet. 1:18, 19.

A converted Jewess in prayer meeting breathed out her note of praise in these words, "We thank thee, Father, for the blood of Christ." It were well that all who read these lines look up and say "I thank Thee, Father, for the blood of Jesus Christ," and to know the blessings of quietly resting in its cleansing virtue. "He that hath the Son hath life," 1 John 5:12.

PLAYERS ENTERTAINED

Mrs. A. M. Morgan entertained the members of the Bryan Players at her home on 7th Avenue, Thursday evening, Dec. 14. The Players first held a short business session, during which the following officers were elected:

- Miss Harriett Dunlap, President.
- Mrs. A. M. Morgan, Vice-President.
- Miss Georgie Jewell, Treasurer.
- Miss Amy Cartright, Secretary.
- Prof. D. W. Ryther, Sponsor and Director.

Following the business session the guests engaged in progressive Rook. High score was won by Miss Harriett Dunlap and low score by Roland McInay. At the close of the evening, Mrs. Morgan served very delicious refreshments.

MONTOYAS RETURN AFTER LONG VISIT IN FLORIDA

The students and faculty at Bryan are happy over the return of Mrs. Montoya and her daughters from an extended visit in Florida. They have spent most of their time with Mrs. Montoya's parents at Pahokee, since going to Florida in September.

After Prof. Montoya joined his family at Pahokee several days ago the group visited relatives and friends, including Mrs. Montoya's sister, at Sebring.

Misses Julia Anna and Marjorie Yancey spent the holidays in northern Florida, visiting in Jacksonville and other places of interest including the Singing Tower at Lake Wales, a beautiful edifice erected by the business magnet Bok, at a monument to himself.

The Yanceys also visited Silver Springs. Miss Julia Anna Yancey said, "I believe it is the most beautiful sight that I have ever seen."

On the way home the Yanceys and Montoyas stopped at Macon Ga., where Mr. Montoya visited his friend, Peyton Jacob, who until recently, was dean of Mercer University. He resigned to accept the presidency of Southern Junior College.

The family of William Wonderly are expecting to arrive in Dayton some time next week to make their residence here for the rest of the school term.

They are Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Wonderly, and two sons, Daniel and Carl, of Mountain Lake Park, Maryland. William, our poetic Freshman, is the oldest son. They will make their residence with William and Edgerton Reid at their home on Railroad Street.

Harriett and "Ted" won't tell us much about their trip to Chattanooga but Harriett says his name is Cecil.

BASKETBALL SEASON OPENS

With the beginning of the second quarter comes basketball with all its attendant joys and sorrows. To those who love the game this time of the year is the most important. Opening practices were held for both girls and boys on Saturday afternoon, Dec. 30. Things looked encouraging for both outfits last quarter, but that monster—grades—has taken a heavy toll in the squads.

Only four of last year's girls are eligible for play so far: Mona Finnell, Thelma Lee, Naomi Jewell and the former captain, Madge Smith. New material has been added in Cleneyria Lee, Stella Purser, Emily McMurry and Virginia Kohout and Marjorie Yancey.

Of the boys, only three of last year's team are in line: Tibbs Maxey, Charles Prusack and John Hair. Among the new blood inserted in the squad are Franklin Bennett, experienced guard, John DeRosset, Elwood Atkins and W. T. Margraves, all of whom are showing good spirit and form. There is also a chance that Pete Stegall will join the boys soon.

Despite the gloom that pervades the campus due to the ineligibilities, a fine spirit is being shown by the candidates of both squads. They are working hard and mean business. There is no reason why Bryan cannot have two excellent teams this season. A fighting team handicapped by inexperience can outplay an experienced team that will not put out, and if our veterans can be re-instated—watch Bryan win!

"HOPE AMID ANXIETY"

"What is mankind to do, and how?"

Our statesmen ask in fear;
While on their shelves, forgotten now,
The Bible makes it clear.

The sign long treaties to release
The world from its distresses;
But they forget the Prince of peace,
Whose law mankind transgresses.

Our Bible says that wars will cease
When Christ comes back to reign:

Till then the world is not at ease,
But "travaileth yet still in pain."

To us who have "the blessed hope"
There is now cause for fear;
In darkness we need not to grope—

Redemption day is near.

Shorty Evans — Three square meals.

Virginia Kohout—Sleeping until nine o'clock every morning.

Miss Yancey — Regaining my youth in Florida.

Mona Finnell — Coming back to Bryan.

Curtis Caudill — Snow—found in the garden spot of the world—Ole' Kaintuck.

Aribelle Langley—When company comes for Sunday dinner.

Maxey — Visiting in Chattanooga.

Agnes Copeland — Spending Christmas with the best Dad in the world.

John Hair—Celebrating a good ol' fashioned Christmas with the good ol' fashion way.

Madge Smith — Doing as I please—just for a change.

Franklin Bennett—Visits to a certain house on Third Avenue.

Helen Limburg — Four full days, jammed full of fun, up in Roane County where I belong.

Harold Tadlock—She didn't get here until vacation was over.

Georgie Jewell — "Threshing cats."

Dr. Burns — Visiting in St. Louis, "but he didn't say whom, and he didn't say why."

The others say they were just too excited to remember.
